Financial Assistance Policy

The UW Medicine Financial Assistance Policy (FAP) is designed to assist eligible patients with the cost of medical care. UW Medicine is committed to providing care to all who seek it, regardless of their ability to pay. The goal of FAP is to ensure that patients receive the care they need, while making the cost of care as accessible as possible. The FAP is available to all patients who meet the eligibility criteria.

Eligibility:

Patients who meet one or more of the following criteria are eligible for FAP:

- Patients who are uninsured or underinsured
- Patients who are Medicaid eligible
- Patients whose annual income is below 200% of the Federal Poverty Level
- Patients who are veterans
- Patients who are enrolled in Medicare or privately insured
- Patients who are Members of an American Indian or Alaska Native tribe

To apply for FAP, patients should contact their provider or the UW Medicine Financial Assistance Office. An application will be provided, and the patient will be guided through the process of determining eligibility and determining the amount of assistance available.

AWC is a joint venture of UW Medicine and the University of Washington. UW Medicine is a not-for-profit organization and the University of Washington is a state agency. UW Medicine receives financial support from the University of Washington, which is supported by state funding and private donations. 8. Federal, state and private insurance plans. In some cases, patients may be eligible for insurance through the Washington Health Benefit Exchange, which is a state-run program that offers coverage to individuals and small businesses. UW Medicine is a participating provider in this exchange.

9. It is important to note that certain services, such as certain types of medications, may not be covered by insurance. It is recommended that patients contact their insurance provider for a list of covered services and to verify that the provider is in-network for their specific plan.

10. UW Medicine is committed to providing high-quality care to all patients, regardless of their ability to pay. In some cases, financial assistance may be available to patients who meet certain income guidelines. Patients are encouraged to contact the hospital's financial assistance office for more information.

11. Patients are also encouraged to contact their insurance provider for more information about covered services and any potential costs. UW Medicine is committed to working with patients to ensure they have access to the care they need.
